Malaysian state eyes 100% certified palm oil by 2025

30th May 2015 / Mongabay.com

Sabah, a state in Malaysian Borneo, is weighing a proposal to produce only palm oil certified under the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil (RSPO), an eco-certification initiative, by 2025. The move, if approved, would represent the first time a sub-national or state entity has committed to 100% certified palm oil production.
Biodiversity in LATAM

- LATAM is home to 50% of the world’s remaining tropical forest
- Tropical forests in LATAM are highly endemic and diverse
- LATAM rate of deforestation is among the highest in the world

Is there direct relation between deforestation and oil palm cultivation?
• Latin American palm oil is mainly consumed in the local market
• Great growth potential for export to EU and US markets
Six essential factors to comply with the Sustainable Development Goals

- People:
  - to ensure healthy lives, knowledge and the inclusion of women and children

- Dignity:
  - to end poverty and fight inequalities

- Planet:
  - to protect our ecosystems for all societies and our children

- Prosperity:
  - to grow a strong, inclusive and transformative economy

- Partnership:
  - to catalyse global solidarity for sustainable development

- Justice:
  - to promote safe and peaceful societies and strong institutions
GOAL 12
ENSURE SUSTAINABLE CONSUMPTION AND PRODUCTION PATTERNS
